Nail It Right Publishing Expands Collection for Seniors

Parkland, WA — Nail It Right Publishing today announced the expansion of its growing library of technology guides designed specifically for seniors and late-in-life learners. The new additions continue the company’s mission to make modern devices, apps, and online tools easier to understand through clear language, step-by-step instructions, and frustration-free learning.

“As technology keeps changing, many seniors feel left behind,” said Donald Vaughn, founder of Nail It Right Publishing. “Our goal is to give them confidence — not confusion — by breaking things down in a way that feels friendly, patient, and practical.”

The expanded collection includes guides covering smartphones, tablets, cloud storage, online safety, and everyday digital tasks. Each book is written with large print, simple explanations, and real-world examples to help readers learn at their own pace.

Nail It Right Publishing continues to grow its catalog to meet the needs of older adults who want to stay connected, informed, and independent in a digital world.
